

Biography:

Judy Wertheim, Vice President, Higher Education Services, Council for Adult and Experiential Learning (CAEL)

Judy oversees CAEL's efforts to reach out to colleges, universities, consortia, and state systems to help remove barriers for adults returning to school. Since joining CAEL in 2006, she has presented workshops throughout the country on Prior Learning Assessment, the adult learning focused institution, and adult advising. She has also consulted with higher education colleagues about strategies to help adults continue their education.

From 1980 to 2006, Judy was affiliated with the School of Continuing Studies at Indiana University. She most recently served as the interim dean for the university-wide school, where she was a professor. Judy oversaw the general studies associate and baccalaureate degree programs; the master's degree program in adult education; the Indiana University high school diploma program; distance courses at the high-school, undergraduate, and graduate levels; and professional development programs.

Judy holds both a master's degree and a doctorate from Rutgers-The State University and a bachelor's degree from Wellesley College.
